

SEEKING AN IMMUTABLE ESSENCE

24 September - 17 October 2008

New Work, By Ahmed Moustafa

New Silkscreen
prints by Dr Ahmed Moustafa, the highly respected Egyptian artist and scholar.

WRITES HIS BIOGRAPHER, JEREMY THEOPHILUS:

Ahmed Moustafa is an exemplary and much needed link between Islamic and European cultures. A conversation with him soon reveals the ways in which his practical training and experience as an artist and masterscribe, starting in Egypt and continuing to the present day in England, have been of crucial importance in informing his academic research into the scientific foundation of Arabic lettershapes. Underlying these activities is his strong Islamic belief that enables him to create images of the most intense complexity yet which can have an aesthetic and spiritual appeal to those with little understanding of their linguistic meaning.
